'King Sized' A-Bomb Exploded

Arms Slash Talks Could Be Scuttled

Kremlin Boasts Might Backfire, Washington Says

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some well-informed U.S. officials now are saying privately that Russia blundered in hastily turning down the Western proposal this week for a first stage disarmament plan. That view is related to the belief in official quarters that the disarmament issue now is caught up in the first round of an all-out propaganda fight, with a principal question being that of blame for the breakdown of negotiations at London.

Breakdown Feared

Although the London talks have not actually ended, some officials here believe the point of breakdown has been reached.

Some authorities here believe that even though all major points of the Western package proposition were known to the Russians it would have been much smarter for Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin to receive the plan quietly and promise full consideration. Officials suggest the possibility that the Russians may be preoccupied at the moment with some propaganda purpose other than developing a basis for an argument over who is to blame for the stalemate situation in London.

One speculation is that with their announcement last Monday of a successful intercontinental missile and the tough line they have been following in the London talks recently, the Russians want to impress the rest of the world with their military power and their confidence in it.

However, the dominant feeling here is that world opinion is strongly in favor of obtaining some kind of disarmament agreement and that the Soviet show of strength, at times in a boastful manner, may backfire in the long run.

UN Debate Slated

The Soviet attitude could, for example, have an adverse effect on Russia's position in the forthcoming United Nations General Assembly debate on Hungary and Russia's military suppression of the anti-Communist revolution there.

And that attitude, together with the disarmament situation, certainly seems to remove any inhibitions the State Department may have felt about attacking Russia's Hungarian record too sharply because of possible effects on the disarmament issue.

Hike Sought By Railroads

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Public Service Commission has set for Oct. 9 hearing of a request for freight rate increases on behalf of railroads operating within West Virginia.

At the same time, the PSC suspended until Jan. 10, subject to any order which might be entered earlier, increased rates the carriers filed to conform with boosts granted on interstate shipments. The Interstate Commerce Commission awarded the railroads a 7-per cent increase, over and above higher temporary freight rates it approved earlier, for interstate business.

Novelist To Wed

BEAUVALLON, France (AP)—Novelist Françoise Sagan said today she will marry Guy Shouler, an editor in a Paris publishing firm, next winter.

Researcher Advocates Skin Injection Of Flu Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army researcher has suggested that injecting flu vaccine into the skin—rather than under it—may permit reducing adult dosage to one-tenth the present amount. That would greatly stretch vaccine supplies.

But a U.S. Public Health Service spokesman said today there is "not yet sufficient evidence" to warrant any change in its present recommendations.

The Health Service suggests a single injection of one cubic centimeter in adults, administered under the skin. The service presently approves a smaller dose only in the case of children under five years of age.

Business Men Furnish Bond In Beck Case

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Chicago businessmen were temporarily jailed yesterday, then released on $5,000 bond, on charges of conspiring to help Teamsters Union President Dave Beck evade income taxes.

Judge Walter J. Labay granted a plea by their attorney, Stanford Clinton, to waive fingerprinting of the two businessmen to save them embarrassment.

But Labay refused to overrule an order by U.S. Marshal William Kipp that the men should be temporarily put behind bars.

The Sheffermans stayed in the cell about three minutes while they filled out official papers.

A Tacoma, Wash., Grand Jury charged Wednesday the Sheffermans conspired to help Beck evade $184,000 in income taxes. Nathan Shefferman termed the indictment ridiculous.

Another figure in the case, Norman Gessert, surrendered on a similar indictment in Seattle yesterday and also was released on $5,000 bond. He had no comment.

Gessert is a Teamsters Union organizer and a cousin of Mrs. Dave Beck Sr. Earlier, Beck posted $25,000 bond and his son, Dave Jr., and Teamsters auditor Fred Verschuren $5,000 each in the evasion case.

Mishap Blamed For Big Switch In Personality

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Because an automobile accident changed Mrs. Dorothy Carter from a shy, reserved person into an over-gregarious personality, she has been awarded $15,000 in a damage suit.

Mrs. Carter was thrown through the windshield of the car her husband was driving Sept. 20, 1954, when it struck driven by James W. West Jr. truck driver.

Mrs. Carter's personality change came, doctors testified here, when scar tissue remained on the most sensitive area of her brain.

Traffic Toll For Holiday Begins Climb

Holiday Deaths At A Glance

Traffic	29
Drowning	1
Miscellaneous	1
Totals	32

By The Associated Press

The Labor Day weekend death toll began a slow, but grim climb today as millions of Americans clogged the highways for a final summer holiday fling.

Before the 78-hour holiday period is over 420 persons will die in traffic accidents, according to a National Safety Council estimate. The count began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and will run through midnight Monday.

The traffic death rate in the early hours today and late last night was about three an hour. This rate would bring the final toll to less than the safety organization's estimates.

The Safety Council pointed out that traffic deaths during this year's 4-day Memorial Day weekend and 4-day Independence Day period were no greater than during normal non-holiday periods of the same duration.

Laborer Slain, Four Face Quiz

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—John Todd, 56-year-old farm laborer of near Williamsburg, Md., died early today of stab wounds and police picked up four persons for questioning.

Dr. John Mace, Dorchester County medical examiner, said Todd was fatally stabbed in the chest.

Deputy Sheriff Charles King said Todd was stabbed with a pocket knife in a tenant house on a farm at Hurlock last night.

Vet Of Korea Found Guilty In GI Abuse

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A special Army court-martial deliberated only 70 minutes late yesterday in convicting a medal-winning Korean combat veteran of mistreating two trainees.

The board of four officers returned the decision against Sgt. James L. Hobbs, 26, of Gunnison, Miss. It ordered:

That Hobbs be reduced in rank to private, confined at hard labor for six months and forfeit $40 in pay each month for six months. As a private Hobbs will draw $106 a month.

The sentence virtually was the stiffest allowed under a special court-martial procedure. Hobbs was convicted of striking Pvt. John W. Clanton, 17, of Phoenix, Ariz., and of ordering undue punishment for Pvt. Raymond L. Wilson, 22, of Bethel, Kan. Both offenses allegedly occurred Aug. 4.

Clanton testified before the court-martial that the sergeant twice assaulted him with his fists for being absent from the barracks without permission.

Clanton said he wasn't badly hurt, and did not seek medical attention after Hobbs struck him several times on two separate occasions within minutes of each other.

Wilson said he was forced by Hobbs to stand on a platform in a drill field for 40 minutes and yell at the top of his lung "Yes, sir, I can speak English."

He said the punishment followed an incident in his barracks.

Molotov Given Outer Mongolia Diplomatic Post

MOSCOW (AP)—V. M. Molotov, who won international prominence as chief of all Soviet diplomats, was named today to the minor diplomatic post of ambassador to Outer Mongolia.

The government announcement of the new job for the former premier and foreign minister was the second assignment of a loser in the recent Kremlin shakeup by Nikita Khrushchev.

Lawmakers End Session, Head Home

Congress' Record On Ike's Program Seen Disappointing

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's lawmakers were streaming home today to get the verdict on their 1957 labors, and rest up for what probably will be a rough session when they reassemble Jan. 7, 1958.

The first session of the 85th Congress closed down late yesterday with a historic civil rights bill passed but with much of President Eisenhower's program put over until next year.

Final adjournment came at 3:57 p.m. (EDT) in the House and 4:22 p.m. (EDT) in the Senate after the longest legislative session since 1951 during the Korean War.

Voices Disappointment

Eisenhower last week expressed himself as "tremendously disappointed" in the labors of this first congressional session of his second term.

But the weary senators and representatives could look back on an eight-month session that began with enactment of the Eisenhower-Mideast doctrine and was climaxed by passage of the first civil rights bill in more than 80 years.

In their 1958 election year session, they will be faced with a wide variety of major problems, many of them postponed from this year.

These will include tax relief, extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, natural gas regulation, control of union welfare and pension funds, liberalization of the social security laws, farm relief, and extension of the public housing program.

Democratic leaders disagreed with Eisenhower's expression of disappointment.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he believed on reflection the President "will find that the record of this Congress was as fine as any he can recall and that it passed more substantial bills than the first session during his first administration."

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts called it "one of the greatest congresses this country has ever had."

But Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California said the Congress had left untouched much of the Eisenhower program, even though the President won an overwhelming endorsement at the polls last November.

The 1957 session rang with cries of economy and budget-cutting, touched off last January by the President's submission of a record peacetime spending budget of $71,800,000,000.

The economy drive faltered a bit as the session dragged on but then the administration itself took over with some sharp whacks at its own spending plans in the last month. These hit particularly at proposed outlays of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Congress ended up whacking a total of $4,900,000,000 off Eisenhower's appropriations requests, the largest reduction of any year since 1953.

Confidential Jurors Will Examine Seats

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors in the Confidential Magazine libel trial will examine the row of theater seats where witnesses have testified that red-haired actress Maureen O'Hara cuddled with a Latin lover.

Confidential's story about Miss O'Hara's purported ardent love-making in "row 35" is a key issue. Miss O'Hara has denied that such an incident ever took place. She says she was in Europe at the time.

The jurors will visit Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood on Tuesday morning, when the trial resumes after the long Labor Day weekend.

Early in the trial, after the story about Miss O'Hara was read, a member of the jury asked if they would be permitted to inspect the scene. Judge Herbert V. Walker reserved decision at that time. But yesterday he granted a similar request for the visit, made by Deputy Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz.

The defense wound up its case yesterday without calling any movie stars to the witness stand. It had more than 100 celebrities under subpoena.

The prosecution then launched the second round of its fight to convict Confidential and Whisper magazines and their Hollywood agents. Fred and Marjorie Meade, of conspiracy to commit criminal libel and to publish lewd and obscene matter.

The prosecution said it is going to put some zip in the sagging proceedings next week with "witnesses who will keep photographers busy."

Ritz refused to disclose the names of these witnesses, but speculation centered on Miss O'Hara as one of them.

Truman Favors Use Of Switches On School Pupils

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The boys and girls would behave better if their teachers were allowed to switch them, says Harry S. Truman.

That's what the former president told 1,000 school teachers at a meeting here yesterday. He elaborated:

"My first-grade teacher opened school with a prayer. She also kept a good limber switch in the corner, and if a smart alec did not behave, he felt that switch where it did the most good."

Troops See Blast From High Tower

Most Elaborate Test Of Series Staged By AEC

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—A powerful atomic blast vaporized a 700-foot tower in a gigantic, purple-rimmed fireball today while a force of the nation's nuclear-age infantry watched.

A wall of dust and an earth-shaking shock wave hit some 900 foot soldiers as they waited to take part in the most elaborate test of the Atomic Energy Commission's 1957 test series.

The blast—fifteen at the Yucca Flat test site this year—came at 5:30 a.m.

Seen Over Large Area

Flash from the explosion was visible over a large area of the western United States.

Atomic scientists said that today's shot, code-named "Smoky," was more powerful than the one that shattered Hiroshima in 1945. It was rated as being equal to more than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Grass and trees in the blast area caught fire as the explosion lashed across the desert.

Troops originally slated to be in trenches only 4,500 yards from the tower were pulled back in the early morning hours—because of fallout dangers—to a no less than 11,500 yards away from ground zero.

In addition to the military maneuvers, elaborate civil defense and scientific tests were conducted during and after the blast. Three hundred mice were imprisoned in French and German-designed blast shelters constructed in the desert at varying ranges from the 700-foot tower.

A contingent of fire chiefs was on hand to test decontamination procedures. Lifelike dummies were exposed to the blast to test the effects of shock waves on humans.

Psychological and sociological studies of a force of picked men from the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N. C., were canceled when the men were moved from the advance positions back to the nob.

Helicopters Load Troops

As soon as the blast area was pronounced safe from contamination big Army helicopters roared low over the desert, landed near the nob, and loaded aboard 700 foot soldiers of a pentomic fighting unit dubbed "Task Force Warrior."

The copters took the men to new positions in the blast area for maneuvers the Army said were to test "tactical concepts which will fit the needs of nuclear warfare."

Four Teenage Youths Killed

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Four teenage boys were killed early today when their auto skidded through a red light at the intersection of Ohio 65 and 30 North in nearby Cairo, and struck a truck.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the victims as Joseph Schumaker, 18, of Columbus Grove, driver of the car; Robert Hall, 19, and James Bowerman, 18, both of Lima, and Robert Worline, 18, of Columbus Grove.

Counsel In Kefauver Probe Admits Showing Stag Films

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The former chief counsel of the Kefauver subcommittee on juvenile delinquency resigned his city job last night after admitting he showed pornographic sex movies at Memphis parties.

James H. Bobo, appointed administrative assistant to Mayor Edmund Orgill after his subcommittee work, said his handling of the illegal films was a serious mistake in judgment.

Bobo, 35, said he got the stag party reels from some which were used as evidence or exhibits during the juvenile delinquency hearings presided over by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

He said he showed the films here four times—the last time a week ago at a hotel after a Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity rush party for Memphis State students.

In Washington, Kefauver said he was writing Bobo about the matter.

"I shall ascertain if the films are the property of the committee and if they are I will see that they are returned," he said. "I am very surprised to hear this." Bobo, however, said he already had burned the films. He put a match to them, he said, after a newspaper reporter found out about the party screenings.

Town Celebrates 'Sucker Day'

Festival Staged To Mark Hoax By 'Con Man'

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

WETUMKA, Okla. (AP)—This is the day the 3,000 residents of this east central Oklahoma town stage a big celebration to laugh at themselves.

They want to remember the time a smooth-talking confidence man took them for a "circus" ride. They have done it in festive fashion annually since the town seven years ago was left holding the bag for big money losses.

Today and tomorrow Wetumka has a carnival-type midway, a fireworks show, a 10-block parade, boat races on its 400-acre lake and many other events—with all the crowds, gaiety and business F. Bam Morrison promised but didn't deliver.

F. Bam Morrison was the name given by the glib stranger who showed up here in the summer of 1950. He impressed all he met with his announcement of the coming of a big circus. He represented himself as its advance agent for concessions and advertising.

Trusting businessmen stocked up supplies—hot dogs, peanuts and lots of other food, even hay for the show's elephant herd. They shelled out money freely for advertising. They were proud that Wetumka, of all Oklahoma's towns, had been chosen to see the spectacle. It meant money and fun for all.

His pockets filled, Morrison departed quickly and quietly. The circus never appeared. Merchants were left expensively overstocked. When their chargin wore off, Wetumkans devised a way to remind themselves of the hoodwinking. They started a celebration they call "Sucker Day."

They foot the bill just as they did when F. Bam Morrison skipped. Each year the affair has grown and 10,000 persons are expected for this year's two-day festival.

Morrison—if that was his name—has a standing invitation to return and join the merrymaking. So far he hasn't come back.

Odors Bring $5,000 Fine In Contempt

SNOW HILL, Md. — Offensive odors coming from a chicken offal processing plant cost the Bishop Processing Co. a $5,000 fine for contempt of court yesterday.

And Judge E. McMaster Duer who found the firm guilty, directed the State's Attorney to check the neighborhood of the plant today. If there are still offensive smells, the judge ordered the state's attorney to bring in officers of the firm on charges of contempt.

Yesterday's fine climaxed a year-long fight over the plant in nearby Bishop. Residents living near the plant had complained of the smell. They testified at a week-long hearing that the odors coming from the plant prevented them from enjoying their homes.

One woman who takes in boarders said the smells had often forced guests to leave her place.

The firm and Ishmael W. Tarburton, its manager, were before the court on contempt proceedings brought after the court had issued an injunction against the nuisance. Tarburton received a suspended sentence. Howard Polin is president of the firm.

Several witnesses for the firm said efforts had been made over the past year to abate the smell. Some said they found no odors in the immediate vicinity of the plant while others said there was a faint odor.

Descriptions of the odor varied. Some said it was like the odor given off by burning leather. Others said it smelled like a mixture of steak and french fried potatoes.

Pet Owners Will Battle Ouster Move

GREENBELT, Md. — Forty-three tenants of Greenbelt homes—pet lovers, all—plan to fight their evictions in the courts.

The 43 received eviction notices yesterday from John O. Walker, general manager of the cooperative which owns the low-rent development. He said they were being evicted for breaking a contract clause which forbids pets.

The rule is a holdover from one imposed by the Public Housing Administration, which managed the homes for the government until it sold out in 1953.

Mrs. Inez Bradley, president of the Greenbelt Pet Owners Assn., said 28 members have retained Judge Emmett Nanna Jr. of the Prince Georges Juvenile Court as their attorney. Some of the other pet lovers have hired their own counsel, she said.

The dispute has been simmering since 1954 when a majority of the tenants of the cooperative voted to uphold the regulation forbidding pets.

State Program Suggested Against Outbreak Of Flu

BALTIMORE — — The main aim of Maryland's vaccination program against an anticipated onslaught of Asiatic flu this fall and winter should be the protection of essential personnel.

Maryland's Advisory Committee on Influenza said persons engaged in essential community services, particularly those who care for the sick, should be inoculated first, until vaccine becomes more plentiful.

The committee, an advisory group to the State Health Department, emphasized that Asiatic flu in this country "continues to be mild."

The committee said it also is concerned with "preventing illness among those who are already chronically ill and in whom the disease might be more severe."

"During the stage when the vaccine is becoming available it is expressly recommended to all concerned that these groups be vaccinated first. Later, when vaccine is in more plentiful supply other individuals can avail themselves of it if recommended by their family physicians."

The committee also said studies so far indicate reactions may be expected from the flu vaccine but "for the most part they are mild."

"Reactions are more frequent and severe in children of preschool age. Detailed advice concerning the immunization of children with influenza vaccine is being placed in the hands of Maryland physicians."

The committee also cautioned that vaccine "should not be given to individuals who are allergic to eggs."

State Oyster Season Opens September 1

CRISFIELD, Md. — Maryland's oyster tonging season officially opens tomorrow, Sept. 1, and watermen are cautiously optimistic it will be a good season with the bivalves fat and plentiful and prices high.

Tomorrow starts the first of eight "R" months which continue through April — the traditional time for oystering and the only period self-respecting oyster eaters will touch the shelled mollusks.

Tomorrow being Sunday, the season won't begin in most tonging areas until Monday, or perhaps even Tuesday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Some watermen are not overly optimistic. They hope the season will be better than the last when oysters were scarce.

Samples taken so far this year have been showing up well for the start of the season. Packers like fat oysters — ones which will produce a gallon of shucked oysters for each bushel of shell oysters.

Because there have been few storms this summer to disturb the oyster beds, watermen expect more of the bivalves to be in the gallon-to-the-bushel class.

Last season, oysters were reported scarce in Pocomoke Sound, tonging areas and Holland Strait did not produce as expected. Anamessex and Manokin rivers were slightly better and oystermen are looking for good yields from all four sources this season.

One serious blow to their hopes, however, came yesterday when the State Health Department, ordered an oyster-rich stretch of the Choptank River — from Oyster Shell Point, four miles upstream from Cambridge, to Dover Bridge on Maryland 331 — closed because of pollution.

The ban will be particularly hard on oystermen and clambers in the vicinity of Secretary who do most of their work in this section of the Choptank.

Somerset County's oyster tonging season won't begin until Sept. 15 although some packing houses will open next week to handle oysters from nearby counties.

Extension of the Small Business Administration to July 31, 1958, with an increase in its lending authority of 155 million dollars.

Passage of a bill to protect the integrity of FBI files, while guaranteeing defendants the right to see relevant portions of statements by prosecution witnesses in the files.

These were major recommendations of the President on which Congress did not act at all or failed to complete action:

A 1½ billion dollar, five-year program of grants to states for school construction. Beaten by five votes in the House.

A 521 million dollar increase in postal rates. This passed the House, but did not clear a Senate committee.

Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. These bills received committee consideration and are expected to be voted on early in the 1958 session.

Extension of minimum wage law coverage to an additional 2½ million persons. This bogged down because Democrats felt it did not go far enough but could not agree on a substitute.

The major portion of the meeting was centered around the drainage onto the school property, and although nothing definite was brought out as a solution, Webster said he expected to be in contact with the owner of the land from which the drainage occurs and that something definite should be worked out by the latter part of next week.

Copperhead Killed On Ridgeley Street

Former Ridgeley Police Chief Harry Detrick and a young neighbor killed a 2½-foot copperhead snake early yesterday. The snake had been the subject of a police search after Mineral Street residents saw it on the sidewalk.

Detrick and Rodney Rowe, 14, killed the snake with shovels when they found it crawling across the street.

Famed Flier Harold Gatty Dies At 54

SAN FRANCISCO — Harold Gatty, veteran aerial navigator who circled the globe in 1931 with Wiley Post and simplified navigation for aviators, is dead at 54.

Gatty has lived in the Fiji Islands since World War II, managing the Fiji Airways and acting as local representative for Pan American World Airways. Pan American officials here said he suffered from a heart condition. Funeral services were held yesterday.

Started June 23, 1931

On June 23, 1931, they left Roosevelt Field on Long Island—the same field from which Charles A. Lindbergh had taken off four years before for Paris—and circled the globe eastward in 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes.

They returned July 1 to cut more than 12 days off the record of 21 days, 7 hours and 34 minutes held by the German Graf Zeppelin.

After a riotous welcome at the airport the two fliers were feted across the nation and received honors including the Distinguished Flying Cross from President Hoover.

As a youth, he sailed in Australian and New Zealand waters but came to the United States with his family in 1927 and later became a naturalized citizen.

He later established an air navigation school in southern California. Among his distinguished pupils were Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, ace racing flier Roscoe Turner, and Harold Bromley, an aviator with whom Gatty tried unsuccessfully in 1930 to fly non-stop from Tokyo to the United States. They had to turn back because of an engine defect.

Aided With Devices
Gatty contributed to three important aviation developments. He helped to devise a simplified system of aerial navigation through celestial observation which made possible higher, longer and safer flights. He also invented a watch face to simplify the figuring of time changes on long flights, and helped develop a ground-speed indicator which was adopted by the military.

During World War II he served in the Army Air Corps in the South Pacific and joined Pan American at the end of the war to explore possible routes through the South Pacific.

In addition to running his little airline and representing Pan American in Fiji, he served as a member of the island Parliament.

M'Keldin Asserts Red Threat Should Not 'Stampede' U. S.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — Soviet Russia's announcement that it has a ballistic missile capable of blasting any part of the world should not stampede the United States into a surrender of "the liberal forms of our education," Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland said today.

Scientists and engineers are major factors "in the progress of our times, but you can't generate the advancement of civilization or the rise of the humanities in the scheme of existence with test tubes and slide rules alone," he said.

"A well grounded society needs men and women of medicine and of the law . . . of letters and of the other arts . . . to teach and inspire the young," McKeldin said in a speech prepared for the legislative week conference on southern regional education, sponsored by the Southern Regional Education Board.

He said that if a young man or woman demonstrates the aptitude of an engineer or a scientist, "certainly he or she should be encouraged to follow through and contribute to the vast and appreciated wealth of design and discovery."

But if it is the inclination of the young American to become a lawyer, or a legislator, or a musician, "certainly he should not be hindered in that to which his nature bends," he added.

McKeldin said that even if Russia's claim of having a ballistic missile is true—"and I sincerely doubt it"—the firing of the missile could win no more decisive victory for communism than the announcement itself will have "if we permit it to stampede us into a surrender of the liberal forms of our education."

Turning his discussion to what is needed in educational facilities at all levels, McKeldin said the responsibility of providing college and university teaching facilities rests primarily with the states.

He expressed belief it will be necessary to establish "more and more branches of our universities within reach of the young men and women who cannot afford to live away from their parental homes . . ."

Noting that "most of our states already are deeply involved in the financial support of primary and secondary schools," McKeldin said he sees no possibility of reducing this state aid to which counties, school districts and municipalities have become accustomed.

LITTLE WOMAN

Little girls seem to be "natural-born" little women, right from the start.

Laura washes for her dollies just as seriously as if she were tending a "real-life" family. She likes to bake tiny cakes and cookies too, and she has her own way of enforcing discipline when her dollies are "naughty."

Sometimes I'm amazed by her, even if I am her mother. And I am awed at the way God fashioned little girls, so that from the beginning they seem to sense that one day they will be mothers themselves.

When I take Laura to Church with me, she's such a little lady, demure and yet amazingly intent for one her age. I look at her. I see one of God's miracles, and I marvel anew. Watching a child grow is a perpetual lesson in Faith.

Sometimes after Church Laura lines her dolls up on a bench. She tells me that "the dollies are in church,"—and I don't feel in the least like chuckling at her childish antics. Rather, I am grateful.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Braves Retain Edge, Continue Mastery Over Cincy

Score 15th Triumph In 17 Meetings Against Reds

By HOWARD SIGMANT

NEW YORK (INS)—There hardly is anything spectacular about devouring the crumbling Cincinnati Redlegs these days, but to the hungry, pennant-bound Milwaukee Braves it's a happy habit and they don't mind the calories.

The Braves gave Birdie Tebbetts additional reason for chirping sour everything to himself last night when they beat his hapless Redlegs, 9 to 5, to stay seven full games out front in the National League race.

Milwaukee now has beaten Cincinnati 15 times in 17 meetings and the once-threatening Redlegs have lost 17 out of their last 20 and are tied for fourth place with Philadelphia, 14½ games out of sight.

Rely On Homer

The Braves relied on an old Cincy weapon—the home run—to notch their latest triumph over the Redlegs. Ed Mathews, Carl Sawatski, Frank Torre and Wes Covington hit for the distance in helping Warren Spahn win his 17th game of the season.

Brooklyn's Dodgers proved they aren't quite dead yet when they blanked the New York San Francisco Giants, 10 to 0 with young Don Drysdale tossing a masterful three-hitter. The victory kept the Bums a half a game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 1, behind "Vinegar Bend" Mizell.

Cubs New 'Whiff Kings'

The Cubs struck out 11 times against Mizell to set a new league record of 812 whiffs.

Philadelphia rookie Jack Sanford joined Spahn in the 17-game circle when he pitched the Phillies to a 4-to-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the American League, it was clearly demonstrated why the wagers-takers are refusing to take wagers by folks who want to bet that the Yankees will win the pennant. The Yanks don't even "lose" when they lose.

A limping Mickey Mantle, bothered by shin splints, hit his 34th homer and got two singles to boost his average to .376 (.3764) but his lameness in the field helped the Washington Senators down the Bombers, 4 to 2.

'Farm' Team Wins

But the disheartened Chicago White Sox, fresh from losing three straight to the Yanks, bowed to the Yankee "farm" at Kansas City, 3 to 1, thus allowing Casey Stengel's team to remain six and a half games up front.

Boston's Red Sox walloped the Baltimore Orioles, 8 to 1 as Bob Porterfield pitched a six-hitter. Ted Williams, with one hit in five trips, saw his league-leading average dip to .377 (.3768) on his 39th birthday.

The Cleveland Indians moved to within a half game of fourth place Detroit when Al Smith doubled home the winning run in the tenth inning that gave the Tribe a 6-to-5 triumph over the Tigers.

Milwaukee's "walking wounded" hotshots, who will be bolstered soon by the return of Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock, showed that the word "collapse" is a forgotten thing with them this year.

The Braves collected 11 hits off starter Bud Podbielan and four relievers. Don Gross, who relieved Podbielan in the third inning, was charged with his ninth straight loss of the season.

Mathews Socks 27th

Mathews' homer in the first, a two-run blast, was his 27th of the season and his third in three days.

Spahn, who has eight losses to go with his 17 wins, had to have relief help from Don McMahon in the seventh and Bob Townbridge and Taylor Phillips saw action for the Braves in the ninth.

Drysdale, 21-year-old ace of the deflated Dodger staff, won his 14th game in 21 decisions with the aid of a 12-hit attack that included homers by Charlie Neal, Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo. It was Drysdale's fourth shutout.

Ruben Gomez was charged with the loss, his 11th in 25 decisions.

WIN 'KIDS' SERIES

Manager Dan (Sgt. Bilko) Fradiska's Cresapton Eagles won the deciding game of the best-of-three series against the LaVale Orioles in the Pen-Mar Little League yesterday by whipping the Birds, 7-3, on the winners' diamond.

Francis Ferrone limited the Orioles to three hits and struck out six. Five of the Eagles' 12 hits were shared by Terry Wendt, Kermit Clem, Ronnie Miller, "Ace" Robinson and Philip Fradiska. Twigg and Bennett collected two hits each for the Orioles.

LaVale Orioles: 196-196—3 & 4. Cresapton Eagles: 196-196—15 & 6. Bennett and Barmey, Ferrone and Wendt.

Stickley Cops Feature Test At Speedway

In the first race which was won by Stan Dantzic, also from Keyser, Bobby Jo Westfall spun out on the No. 2 turn along with Ken Marriott and Bill Godwin. They withdrew on the seventh lap.

Roy Leatherman was forced to pull out on the back straightaway after a spin out in the second race while Westfall spun out twice in the third heat. In the same race, Norman Miller spun in front of the grandstand and collided with Bill DeSoto, Goodwin, Ray Riffle and Skinner McGee all had mishaps in the third.

Stickley and Godwin again spun out in the fourth race but both continued and Stickley went on to finish second.

In the fifth race, DeSoto and Glenn Hill locked wheels and Bob Izzit and Jeffries went over the bank, the latter getting back on course and cutting in front of Hill who later overtook Jeffries and smashed into him broadside. Both were then forced to withdraw.

In the ladies' powderpuff race, Joyce Riffle led for five laps. She went into a spin on turn No. 3 and ended in the infield. She broke two rear shocks and her brakeline. Blanche DeSoto came on to win the heat.

In the final race, Ollie Beckman spun out on the second turn and had to restart the race. He then had a flat tire during the seventh lap and exited the race on tenth lap. Al Gatto, who led the final event for 11 laps, suffered a spun out but recovered in time to finish third.

There will be races next Friday night at 8 p. m. at the Speedway.

Summary:

FIRST—Stan Dantzic, Keyser, 2 Ken Jeffries, Lonaconing, 3 Wes Lambert, Cumberland.
SECOND—Glenn Hill, Cumberland, 4 Al Gatto, Cumberland, 3 "Cowboy" Hawkins, Burlington.
THIRD—Ollie Beckman, Oakland, 2 Bill DeSoto, Cumberland, 3 Bob Izzit, Cumberland.
FOURTH—Jess Lambert, Cumberland, 2 Bud Stickley, Keyser, 3 Hill, Cumberland.
FIFTH—Dantzic, Keyser, 2 Carl Whitacre, Ridgeley, 3 Stickley, Keyser.
POWDER PUFF—Blanche DeSoto, Cumberland, 2 Rose Godwin, Cumberland, 3 Mary Grace Miller, Cumberland.
SIXTH—(20 laps)—Stickley, Keyser, 2 Hill, Cumberland, 3 Gatto, Cumberland, 4 Hawkins, Burlington, 5 Whitacre, Ridgeley.

Dudley's Maid Sets Record For Trotters

DU QUOIN, Ill.—(INS)—Dudley's Maid, owned by Hayes Fair Acres, set a new event record yesterday as it won the Illinois Trotting and Racing Association's colt stakes for two-year-old pacers at Du Quoin.

Dudley's Maid, driven by Benjie Schue, won the first heat in the record time of 2:30 1-5—fastest time in the 20-year history of the race.

Hayes stable also took the three-year-old pace when Helga Trust won its second heat over Sea Rover. Sea Rover took the first heat, edging Helga Trust.

Yesterday's program closed the Du Quoin meeting.

In 65 seasons of varsity football competition, the University of Delaware has a slight edge in the win column with an all-time record of 228 wins, 227 losses and 40 ties.

Defensive Line Of Giants Again Appears Loop's Best

By The Associated Press
The New York Giants banished all hopes of their National Football League adversaries that their defensive line would be noticeably weakened this year by the loss of tackle Roosevelt Grier to the Army.

The Giants put on an iron clad goal line stand against the Chicago Bears in an exhibition game in Dallas last night that netted the Bruins only three yards in four tries. When it was over, the world champions took over on their 2-yard line and marched 98 yards, under the passing of Charley Conerly, for a score that nailed down a 24-17 decision. Frank Gifford's one-yard plunge capped the Giants 98-yard surge.

Both teams were tied 17-17 at halftime, on scores by Don Heinrich (on a run), Bill Svoboda (recovered fumble in the end zone) and Don Chandler's 24-yard field goal and two extra points for the Giants; Harlon Hill snagged two TD passes and George Blanda booted a 27-yard field goal and a pair of extra points for the Bears' scores.

Tonight, the Chicago Cardinals will be seeking their first exhibition victory in a game against the Los Angeles Rams at Portland, Ore., while the Washington Redskins and the Detroit Lions clash at Birmingham, Ala.

Son Gets Tired, Dad Continues To Play

DAYTON, Ohio.—(P)—Former Masters champion Claude Harmon had a companion during most of his rounds of the PGA championship in his son, Claude (Butch) Harmon Jr. However, on the fourth day of the five-day event, golfer Claude missed his son until his match for a chance at fifth place went into overtime.

"You just returned in time," said golfer Claude. "I was putting well until you left me. What happened?"

"I got tired," said the 13-year-old Butch.

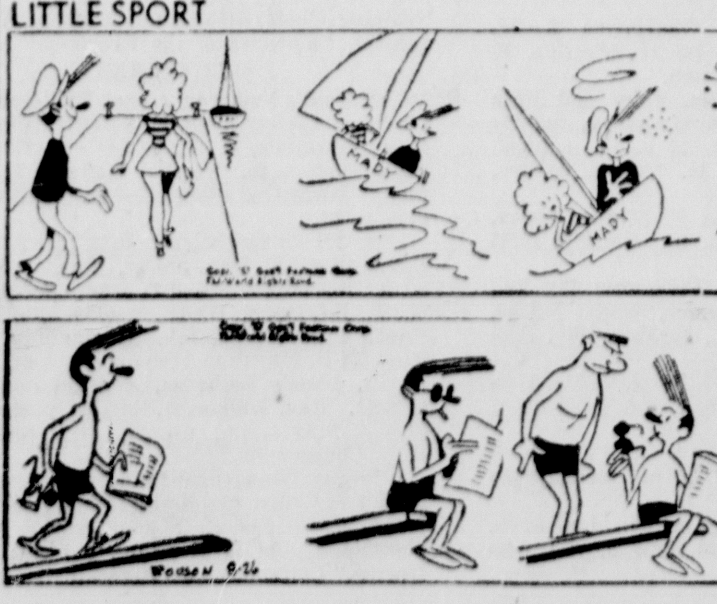

Harmon won the match against Jay Hebert by dropping a 15-foot putt on the 20th hole.

However, that night Harmon learned that Mrs. Harmon was ill and was forced to fly home to Mamaroneck, N. Y.

On the last day he had to default to Open champion Dick Mayer, his former pupil, for a chance at fifth place.

Mayer said he would split $500 with Harmon although PGA records show that Mayer got $2,500 for fifth and Harmon $2,000 for sixth.

The 1957 football game between the University of Delaware and Lehigh University will be a battle to break a 5-5 tie in the series which began in 1912.

Favorite Role To Iron Liege In Derby Test

CHICAGO (INS)—Kentucky Derby champion, Iron Liege, pride of the famed Calumet stable, battles seven other three-year-olds today, including Travis Kerr's highly regarded Round Table, in the 47th renewal of the $145,900 American Derby at Washington Park.

The race, a mile and three-sixteenths test over the grass, will go a long way in determining the three-year-old champion of the year. Missing will be Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, second to Iron Liege in the Derby.

$103,050 To Winner

A purse of $103,050 will go to the owner of the winner with an additional $25,000 to the place finisher.

The race also will test Bill Hartack and Willie (The Shoe) Shoemaker, the nation's two leading jockeys this year. Hartack, who has brought 32 stakes winners home first this year, will ride the Calumet hopeful for the seventh time in 1957.

Iron Liege, winner of $287,678 this year, and Round Table, which has won $324,100 as a three-year-old colt, both were assigned top impost of 126 pounds. Oddsmakers installed Iron Liege as the 3 to 2 favorite while Round Table was 8 to 5 in the overnight line.

Rain probably would force Round Table out of the race but the prospect is for sunny skies.

Round Table, the big bay colt bred by the famed Claiborne Farm in Lexington, Ky., sold to the Kerr Stable's last winter, has won six in a row including the Derby preview, a mile and one-sixteenth race on the grass last week.

Wins Kentucky Derby

Iron Liege's great moment this year came when he beat out Gallant Man for the Kentucky Derby. A renowned "off tracker," Iron Liege won the Sheridan Handicap 10 days ago at a mile and should take kindly to the turf.

Hasty House Farm will send its Irish bred import Martini II to the post. The chestnut colt has been beaten in its only two American starts but won three out of five races in Ireland this year.

Others going postward include Golden One, William S. Miller's Better Bee, Frederick Nally's New England champion, Melson, Ogden Phipps' Bureaucracy and Agoura Stock Farm's Ekaba.

Bureaucracy probably is the number one threat to Iron Liege and Round Table. The Phipps' colt scored recent victories in the providence stakes at Narragansett and the Dwyer at Belmont. He also forced Gallant Man for a mile and a quarter before losing by a half length the Travers stakes at Saratoga last Saturday.

Champs Decided In Rec Net Play

Four players from the Dingle courts, three from North End and one from Fort Hill took titles yesterday in the finals of the City Recreation junior tennis tourney.

Summary: Maureen Miller, Dingle, last year's 16-17 age group champion repeated this year by defeating Sally Runion, North End in the finals, 6-2, 6-2.

Drake Gibbs, Dingle, won the 14-15 year boys' division by defeating Bill Lohmas, Fort Hill, 6-3, 6-0.

Maureen Miller and Beverly Bowie, Dingle, won the girls' city doubles championship by besting Sandra Roeder and Sally Runion, North End, 6-4, 6-3.

Drake Gibbs and Milton Stein, Dingle, won the boys' city doubles championship by eliminating Mat Coffey and Bill Lohmas, Fort Hill, 6-1, 6-3.

Sandra Roeder, North End, defeated Sara Murphy, Dingle, 6-0, 6-1, for the 14-15 year girls' championship.

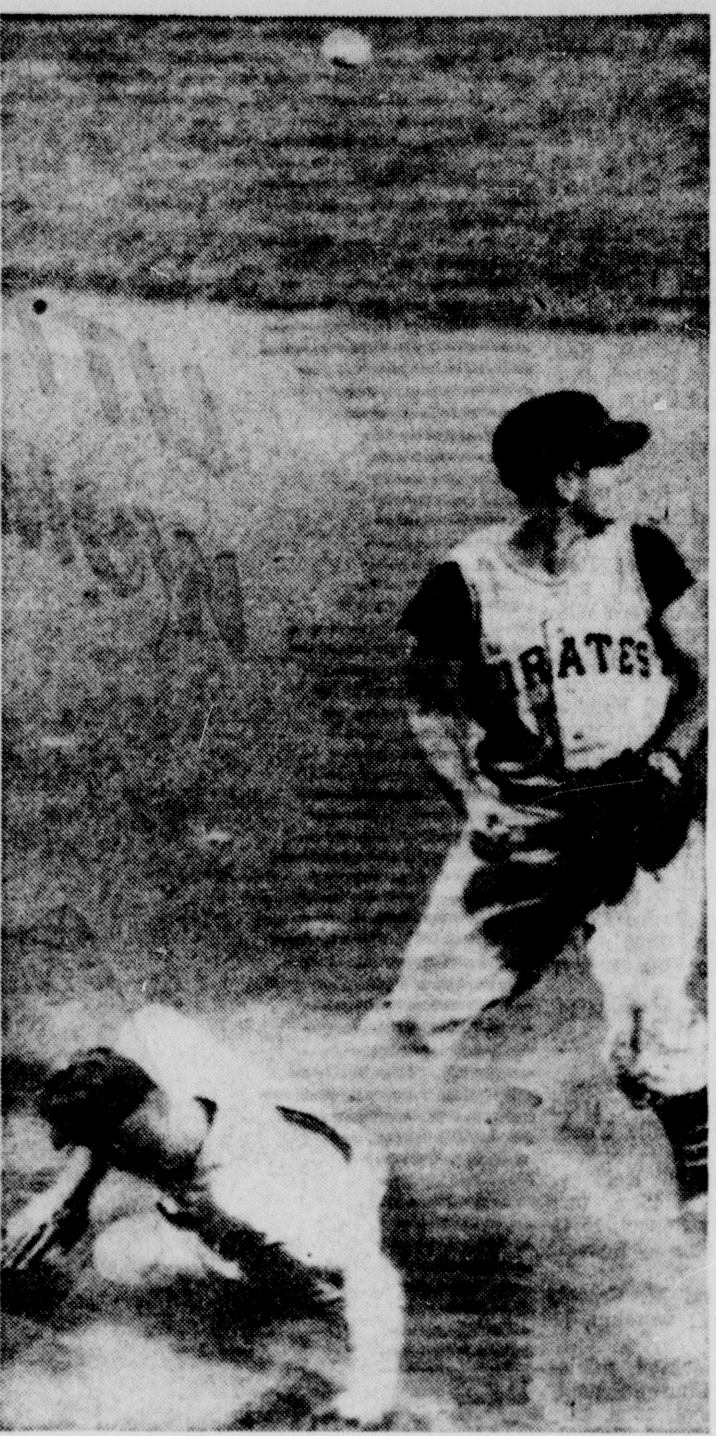

Sharon Kasacamp, North End, last year's 12-13 year champion won again this year by defeating Linda Gibbs, Dingle, 6-3, 6-3.

Allan Kaplan, North End, also a last year's 12-13 group champion repeated this year by defeating Garry Blake, Fort Hill, 6-3, 6-3.

James Twigg, Fort Hill, won the boys' 16-17 division by defeating Buck McKenzie, North End, 6-0, 6-1.

RUNS, TOO

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—In his first 18 attempts this season, Mickey Mantle was thrown out stealing second only three times.

LOOK UP, BILL!—Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh Pirates second baseman, looks around in vain search for ball (above his head) that got out of control as he tried to complete first-inning double play in Pirates-Philadelphia Phillies game yesterday. Get-It-Done Charles Harney Put Giants In San Francisco

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SAN FRANCISCO.—(NEA)—When you dig into the story behind the New York Giants' move to San Francisco, you don't look up Horace Stoneham. The Giants' owner doesn't even know where the Ferry Building is.

Nor do you seek out Mayor George Christopher. He's just the front man in the movement and his eye is on the United States Senate, not baseball.

Bundle of Energy Instead, you go to the man who picked up the ball where and when it counted most. He is Charles Leonard (Get-It-Done) Harney, a blocky, fallstaffian bundle of Irish energy put into the building business. If contractors and engineers in New York and Brooklyn think like Harney—and have his resources—then the Giants and Dodgers wouldn't be leaving 14' million people with only one major league ball club.

Stoneham moved to San Francisco because in Harney he found an individual who not only owns land on which to build a park, but has the organization and equipment to build a stadium seating 45,000—and is willing to extend $6 million in credit.

San Francisco required considerably more than the $5 million municipal bond issue the voters okayed in 1954 to build a park and land the Giants. Mayor Christopher turned to Get-It-Done Harney and he found the man who could wrap the history-making franchise shift into one king-sized package.

They sometimes call it the California give-away baseball program, but Harney, the hard-shelled business tycoon, isn't exactly contributing over-generously.

Deal Is Sound "I'm no philanthropist or benefactor," says straight-talking Harney. "This deal is economically sound."

"Harney will have made about $3 million when the job is completed," says Thomas Gray, manager of the Downtown Association of San Francisco, who is credited with getting support for the bond issue. "But I'm for him. Nobody else could have put it over." Harney gets first count on the $5 million bond issue and will get his other $6 million through the sale of five or six per cent revenue bonds.

Outside of his tremendous heavy contracting business, Harney until now was best known here as the nominal chairman of the University of San Francisco's athletic board until 1952.

Actually, he was an angel who put up something like $10,000 a year toward football and basketball at the school. He had attended prep school there and took two years of a pre-legal course. It was Harney who obtained Maurice (Clipper) Smith, Ed McKeever and Joe Kuharich as football coaches at San Francisco. The school produced nine top-flight professional gridders during this regime, including such as Ollie Matson. Then Pete Newell and now Phil Woolpert were brought in as basketball coaches by Harney and the Dons, with Bill Russell, were unbeaten for two straight campaigns.

Suffers Heart Attack Harney was at the Kansas City Auditorium with the school's basketball team during the NCAA basketball playoffs late March when he suffered a heart attack which took him off a 13-hour day work schedule. The attack followed a serious abdominal operation in February. Since then he has taken off 60 pounds, but he remains a stocky, ruddy-faced man behind horn-rimmed glasses. He now weighs 200.

Next to building roads, bridges, dams, college-teams and moving baseball franchises, Harney's principal interests now are a $1 million, 18,000-acre cattle ranch near Livingston, Calif., which he purchased from the estate of the late Charles S. Howard. He also put up youth centers and boys' clubs.

Harney owned 68 acres of land at Candlestick Point in the Bay View section, much of it under shallow water, and was leveling off a hill and filling in for industrial sites when the baseball question arose three years ago.

Then he went to work. San Francisco now has the Giants—although it should cost taxpayers an annual $420,000 over 15 years—and Charley Harney has found another pleasant way of making money.

Four Win Titles In Junior Golf Marie Naughton, Susan Whitworth, Royce Hodges and Ed George were the winners in the two-day junior golf tournament concluded yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club.

Miss Naughton won in the 15-16 division with a gross score of 75-62-137 and Miss Whitworth paced the players in the 13-14 class with a gross 54-58-112.

Royce Hodges headed 15-16 boys group with 79-83-162 and Ed George led the 12-14 division with 55-52-107.

A special prize went to John Zimouski who scored a deuce on No. 10.

Gibson Seeks First National Singles Title

By TONY GALLI

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(INS)—Wimbledon Queen Althea Gibson of New York launches an all-out campaign today for the national singles tennis championship which has eluded her for the past seven years.

The top-seeded 30-year-old daughter of a Harlem garage attendant meets blonde Miami model Karol Fageros in a first-round match at Forest Hills after veteran campaigner Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded fourth in the men's division, opens with a match against Alan Roberts of Brooklyn.

With six seeded players safely through opening day action yesterday, Miss Gibson, Seixas and eight other seeded stars strive today to make the second-round of the ten-day classic at the West Side Tennis Club.

Ashley Cooper, who became Australia's top-ranked player with the defection of Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad to the pro ranks, meets John Brownlow of Cleveland in his first match after Seixas, Miss Gibson, Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Sammy Giammalva of Houston parade their wares.

Flam Meets Olmedo

Flam, eighth seeded on the list headed by Cooper, meets Alejandro Olmedo of Peru and Giammalva, unseeded Davis Cup hopeful, takes on Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif.

Veteran Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris shows his stuff before the home folks for the first time in five years in a grandstand match with Larry Schaffter of New York.

Second-seeded Dick Savitt of South Orange, N. J., and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., gained the second round with impressive victories yesterday before a handful of 2,500 spectators.

The 30-year-old Savitt, who divides his time between tennis and his oil business, breezed past Calvin MacCracken of Teanah, N. J., 2-1, 6-0, 6-4. Savitt, flashing the power that won him the Wimbledon and Australian titles in 1951, needed just 41 minutes to gain the second round opposite Johann Kupperburger of South Africa.

Miss Brough, four-time Wimbledon queen and 1947 U. S. champ needed nine minutes less to dispatch 27-year-old Sieglide Boeck of Canada, seven years her junior, 6-1, 6-2.

Richardson Advances America's top-ranked Hamilton Richardson, the sixth-seeded Rhodes Scholar from Westfield, N. J., won a second-round meeting with Doug Corley of Colorado Springs by defeating Stephen Gottlieb of New York, 6-0, 6-2.

Third-seeded Dorothy Head Knodel of Forest Hills defeated Isabel Troccone of New York, 6-3, 6-1. Sven Davidson (3), Wimbledon-semi-finalist from Sweden, defeated Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, 6-1, 6-1, 9-7, and Neale Fraser (5) of Australia topped Peter Estlin, Greenwich, Conn., 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

Kurt Nielsen, U. S. indoor champion and Denmark's No. 1 player, won a second-round berth with Davis Cup hopeful Myron Franks of Los Angeles by beating Crawford Henry, Atlanta, Ga., 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Franks eliminated David Nelson, Chicago, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. Australia's third-ranked Mal Anderson defeated Japan's top-ranking player, Kosei Kamo, 9-7, 6-3, 6-2. India's top player, Ramanathan Krishnan, beat Davie Harum, Coral Gables, Fla., 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

One of Uncle Sam's young stars, Barry Mackay of Dayton, advanced with a 6-3, 6-1, 6-1 victory over Don Rubick of Brooklyn.

Fight Last Night

By The Associated Press
MIAMI BEACH—Ralph Dupar, 140-lb., New Orleans, outpointed Johnny Russo, 141-lb., New York, 10.

Busso Hoping For Another Dupas Match

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ralph Dupas and Johnny Busso, two ranking lightweights, pounced on each other savagely for 10 rounds last night and each said at the finish he wanted to fight again—Dupas for the championship and Busso to get revenge for losing a close decision.

Dupas, native of New Orleans, ranks near the top among lightweights and wants a crack at the crown now won by Joe Brown, a fellow townsman.

Busso, a tough New Yorker, apparently was as strong at the finish as he was when he stepped into the ring. He stood dejectedly when the decision was announced and his handlers immediately announced he wanted to fight Dupas again—in Madison Square Garden.

Dupas scored with solid body blows but Busso took everything his way and kept wading in, firing lefts and rights to the head. There were no knockdowns but each rocked the other with lightning blasts to the jaw.

Busso was a 52 underdog at fight time but only one or two points separated them on three scorecards at the finish. One judge saw it for Dupas, 99-92, under Florida's system which gives the winner of a round 10 points and the loser nine points or less.

Dupas, speaking through his co-manager Angelo Dundee, said he wanted to fight Joe Brown of New Orleans for the title.

Bill Best Named Annapolis Coach

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Bill Best, a native of Mt. Savage, has been named head football coach at Annapolis High School.

The 27-year-old graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College will succeed "Woody" Wetherhold who gave up coaching to accept an appointment as vice-principal of the school.

Best, who will also serve as head basketball and baseball coach, came to Annapolis from Baltimore where he spent last season as assistant football coach at Mergenthaler Vocational High School.

Best previously had coached high school football for one year at San Antonio, Tex., and had coached service football while in the Army at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Best is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Best, Mt. Savage, and is a graduate of Beall High School where he excelled in basketball, baseball, soccer and football. He also is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and played on the baseball, basketball and soccer teams there.

In recent years he managed teams in the Mt. Savage Little League and Hot Stove League and has been an infielder-pitcher with the Mt. Savage Old Germans of the Pen-Mar Baseball League.

Best is married and his wife, the former Miss Diane Peterson, of Pittsburgh, also will teach during the coming term at Arundel Junior High School near Annapolis.

Score 15th

In 22 decisions by setting the Pirates down with eight hits, including a homer by Dick Groat. The Phillies scored all their runs in the first three innings off Vern Law.

Chicago's new strikeout record topped the 806 figure they set in 1955. The major league record of 877 belongs to the 1936 Washington Senators. St. Louis' winning run registered on Del Ennis' sacrifice fly in the ninth. Moe Drabowsky was the Bruin loser.

The Senators scored three runs in the fifth to hand Bobby Shantz his fourth loss against 10 wins. Chuck Stobbs, who wasn't around at the finish, was credited with his seventh win. He has 17 losses.

Charlie Maxwell's two-run homer in the ninth had sent the game against Cleveland into overtime and the Tigers went ahead, 5 to 4 in the top of the tenth on a run-scoring single by Billy Hoelt. Smith, who had tripled across a run in the first, capped the two-run rally in the tenth with a double that scored the winning marker.

Hoelt was the loser for Detroit and Vito Valentini the winner for Cleveland.

Malzone Paces Red Sox
The Red Sox scored five runs in the sixth, two on a homer by Jackie Jensen to defeat the Orioles and Billy Loes. Frank Malzone led the Sox attack with two doubles, a sacrifice fly and a walk.

Lefty Alex Kellner recorded his sixth win by limiting the "Socksless" White Sox to six hits. Bob Keegan took the loss, his seventh.

Trap Invented To Eliminate 'Torturing'

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—Scrambled scribbles from the sports samovar... General chairman for this year's National Amateur Golf championship at Brookline, Mass., is Charley Devens... who pitched for the New York Yankees for parts of three seasons in the early '30s after graduating from Harvard... Devens retired with a 5-3 lifetime record in 1934 to enter business...

A University of Washington survey among 10,000 boys in the 8-to-19 age group ranks favorite pastimes in this order... baseball, swimming, softball, football, movies, indoor baseball, ice skating, basketball, marbles and checkers... Among girls of the same ages, the preferences are movies, swimming, reading, parties, volleyball, roller skating, marching, hiking, skating and cooking...

September issue of Outdoor Life reports development at last of an humane animal trap... That kills fur bearers instantly instead of holding them by the legs for possibly days of slow torture... Through the years, opponents of the leg trap in England and America have offered cash rewards of more than $10,000 for a humane and practical substitute... The new trap was developed after nearly three decades of experiment by Frank Conibear of Victoria, B. C...

Conibear's trap functions like a small-scale revolving door... With the animal tripping steel rods jaws that slam shut around its neck or chest... Killing instantly without damaging the pelt... Outdoor Life reports a three-year field test by the British Columbia registered trappers association has proved highly successful...

A recently completed survey of 1957 hunting prospects in 27 states indicates that rabbits will be even more abundant than in 1956, a good year... Only Alabama reported fewer bunnies... Only two states reported a decrease in squirrels... The numbers of grouse, quail, pheasant and wild turkey also should be generally higher than last year... Deer are expected to be more plentiful in the East, Midwest, South Central and Southwest States... California reports a decrease...

Lightweight boxing contender Orlando Zulueta, who wants to become a professional photographer, won first prize in a contest at a school where he is studying the subject... His photo showed stablemate Tommy Roberts reading a letter from home while the two were in Denver...

Syracuse footballer Mike Bill played halfback, end, tackle and guard... And now is a center... Greville Munger, halfback on this year's Penn Team, is the son of George Munger, who coached the Red and Blue for 16 years... During the first Princeton-Yale grid game in 1873, the football burst... And the contest was delayed half an hour while the players located another ball...

Tony Randall Would Like To Play Iago In 'Othello'

TONY RANDALL WITH JAYNE MANSFIELD: His aim, Iago.

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK — Tony Randall denies that he's now a big movie star, but how else can you classify a guy who's played opposite Jayne Mansfield (in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?") and Sherree North (in "No Down Payment") in his last two pictures.

It's probably tough for Tony to realize—because he's a simple, modest man who's primarily a stage and TV actor—but the truth is that he's now a big Hollywood figure. Back home in New York, riding the buses and subways, Randall sees himself as just another guy, but he's big time today.

"Movies were something that I never thought of, in connection with me," he says. "I never had dreams of being a movie star. I was happy in New York, doing TV and Broadway plays.

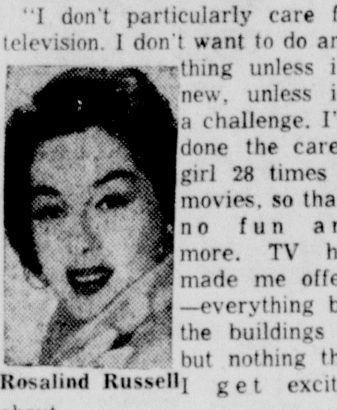

"TV was exciting in those days—Mr. Peepers was exciting, so were the other shows I did. But then TV changed. It's no longer exciting. And at about the same time it began to change, Hollywood started knocking on my door. And they offered me good things, interesting projects, so I went."

He's in the first year of a seven-year contract with 20th Century-Fox. They let him do six TV shows a year. It's not in his contract, but he thinks they'd let him do a play if he found a good one.

His ambition—one of them anyhow—is to play Iago in "Othello." While he was doing "Inherit the Wind" on Broadway with Paul Muni, Tony says he talked to Muni for two years, trying to convince him he should play Othello. And he's also talked to Lee J. Cobb about it. So far, no luck.

Incidentally, Tony has one of the most amazing memories in show business. He remembers meeting people four or five years ago—and what they wore and what they said. He's a pretty good life-of-the-party with his stunts. He's also continually amazing his wife, when they're home of an evening watching a late movie. He remembers the dialog—before the actors say it.

Rosalind Russell: got excited about.

"I tell you what I would like to try some time—blank verse. I've never done any blank verse. If I offered me that, I'd jump at it. I wouldn't care if it was a failure—I'd rather be laughed at for doing something, than not try it at all."

Zsa Zsa Gabor danced on the Arthur Murray Party show. Murray asked her if she was going to do the czar, Hungary's national dance.

"No," said the glamor gal, seriously for once. "They're too unhappy to dance it in Hungary so why should I do it here?"

There was a panicky moment at NBC when calls started flooding in, asking if it were true that Perry Como had had a heart attack. A quick check found Como in perfect health. So, if you've heard any of the rumors, discount them. Nothing to it.

The building industry has banded together to do a TV show, "Building America," designed to show the American public what this vast industry is doing to help the country.

The program will be shown over some 200 stations beginning in the fall. It has some pretty good material in it, so watch for it.

Adventure Setting

HOLLYWOOD—"The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad," an Arabian Nights adventure starring Kerwin Mathews in the title role and Kathryn Grant as an Oriental princess, will be filmed in the Mediterranean.

Rex Harrison Gets Support For TV Show

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—(INS)—Rex Harrison, very unhappy with his lines in CBS-TV's "Crescendo" script, has brought London pal Peter Ustinov (whose "Romanoff and Juliet" is due on Broadway, soon) to perk up his dawdling role. . . . Merv Griffin gets a five-week ABC Radio show (just don't sing Sept. Song) . . . Jack Philbin, who quietly replaced Lee Cooley as producer of the Vic Damone Show, receives no title credit.

The Damone show has the added dubious distinction of turning down a widely praised anti-communist after he was set for the show. . . . It figures that bad judgment must run right through to the top of that feeble summer shambles. . . . The last "Kukla, Fran & Ollie" ABC-TV show last night was as charming as ever. Terrible if they sink in the channels for good. . . . amazingly, they've been on TV since 1939! . . . From the N. Y. World's Fair.

Everyone may not agree on Helen O'Connell's voice or stylized singing but no one can fault her superb taste in the best melodies. (Last night: Arlen's great "Man That Got Away" and "End Of A Love Affair") . . . It also was Helen's final evening NBC-cast; she stays on the Garroway low-jinx, though. . . . Now if only Happy Felton would stop yelling.

Both he and Harry Wisner sound as if they're drowning, trying to sell the product while going down for the third time.

Martin Agronsky's Mike Wallace-type NBC-TV interview series starts Sept. 15 with a guest more sizable than any Wallace has lured so far: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. . . . It also will be "non-political," which tempers the impact considerably.

Could be very interesting, a verbal bout between Agronsky, a noisily committed liberal, and the fellow comedienne Carol Burnett, made a fool, and a career over. . . . U.N. Ambassador Lodge will "Meet The Press" one week from tomorrow. . . . Wisconsin's new Senator Wm. Proxmire sits for ABC-TV's "Open Hearing" tomorrow. . . . The heavy-handed vulgarities of Teddi Thurman, Jack Paar's sexy-weather gal, are designed by the Paar gag writers, who apparently just don't get the joke. . . .

"Tie-Tac-Dough" certainly goes chic when promoted to the nighttime TV air: It will give away more money, the orchestra will have 19 musicians (all ex-Toscaninis, we're assured) and the quiz even will be in color. After that it only has to attract a rating.

The Robinson-Basilio bout will be on NBC Radio. . . . Steve Allen's old "Tonight" shows had truer entertainment than his bigger but many times vulgar—less tasteful Sunday nighters, but Jack Paar's "Tonight" has become even better than the best early Allen midnight mishmashes. . . . King Arthur's knights simply ride over to ABC-TV's channels for another go-round of the old CBS series starting Oct. 1, to be called, "The Adventures of Sir Lancelot."

Sinatra has finished 12 of the 13 filmed shows he'll personally star in, nine of them 30-minute musicals; three, dramas. . . . He'll star in the two "live" shows and host only in 23. . . . Wally Cox now is filming "The Green Grass Of St. Theresa" for the Sinatra series. . . .

Revlon's corporate ear-to-ear smile stems from having all of its three TV network shows in Nielsen's newest top ten: The two $64,000 shows, (2nd and 6th) and the 20th Century-Fox Hour (4th) . . .

In the split-loyalties of viewers to TV shows (ARB reports), Groucho's brilliant lunacy is the favorite of both guys and gals. G.E. Theatre is the nation's favorite dramatic show, says ARB.

Erin O'Brien, Steve Allen's ex-gal singer, stars in an upcoming "Cheyenne" episode with Clint Walker. Erin was deemed too tall to act with Gene Kelly in "Marjorie Morningstar," but Clint's six-six.

Poor Salesman Wins Home, Car

CLEVELAND—A poor salesmanship has paid off for a young Cleveland area couple in the form of a $20,000 house and a new car.

Frank Berry, 26, of suburban Parma was given three books of raffle tickets to sell in connection with St. Ignatius High School's annual scholarship benefit.

Unable to dispose of six tickets, he bought them himself—three in his name and three for his wife.

One of his wife's tickets won the house and Frank won the new car as seller of the prize-winning ticket.

"South Pacific" Being Filmed On Hawaiian Isle

REALLY TROPICAL—No studio props for the movie troupe making "South Pacific" on the lush Hawaiian island of Kauai. The backdrop is nature's own "set" of tropical vegetation, wild mountains, green turf and blue sea. This scene shows Mitzi Gaynor, as Nellie Forbush, and Navy nurses rehearsing the famous "Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair" number.

KAUAI, Hawaii—Until a few years ago most all of Hollywood's film studio sets were less than a half hour's automobile drive from my desk. Today, after a nine-hour United Airlines flight across the Pacific, I'm reporting to you from the Bali Hai "set" here for the movie, "South Pacific."

But this is no set if you ignore a prop man's sign which reads, "Los Angeles, 2,670 Miles."

The backdrop is nature's own wild, natural beauty of this famed Hawaiian island. Emerald green, finger-like mountains reach for the world's bluest sky. Snow-white sands whisper beneath the pale green surf which brightens, beyond the coral reef, to a deep blue on the distant horizon.

The director of the film, Josh Logan, sighs, and says: "This isn't a set. This is Bali Hai."

Buddy Adler, the producer of the 20th Century-Fox film version, in color and Todd A-O, of the famous Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, sighs, too, and says:

"We would be out of our minds trying to make 'South Pacific' on the studio backlot or at Catalina Island."

Yes, all those things they talk about on the stage is "South Pacific"—Lac-tenant Cable's trips to the forbidden Bali Hai—the Boar's Tooth Ceremonial, Emile de Becque's secret mission to spy on the Japanese; the big naval landings and Seabee Luther Billis falling out of a helicopter—are "in the script" of the movie version being filmed here on this tropical Hawaiian "garden" island.

It's costing money—five million dollars. There's commuting to and from Honolulu 100 miles away on Aloha Airlines. There's commuting from Honolulu to Los Angeles on United Airlines. There was the shipping of 50 tons of equipment, including four Todd A-O cameras, 450,000 feet of film, 40,000 board feet of lumber and 21 outrigger canoes to Kauai.

There is housing of 178 members of cast and crew at the Coco Palm Hotel, transportation to and from locations 40 to 50 miles away. But with "South Pacific" being filmed on location in mid-Pacific, how can it miss? The producer, the director, the cast and the crew aren't even asking that question. They know the answer.

It can't miss. Director Logan, co-author of the eight-year-old play and who has directed all of the stage versions, sounds as if he has just

Blair and Mary Martin for six months on the London stage. After working in several scenes with Mitzi Gaynor, he's already saying: "I don't have to say it, but I suspect Mitzi may turn out to be the best Nellie in the history of the show."

Eighteen "Navy nurses" helping Mitzi "wash that man right outa my hair" are Honolulu girls, hired by Dance Director LeRoy Prinz. Another is Muffet Webb of Memphis, Tenn., who was the stewardess on the plane that brought Director Logan and Prinz on a night flight to Honolulu. They "borrowed" her from the airline for a week's work in the film—and she's been humming "Some Enchanted Evening" ever since.

Ed Wynn Arrives For Role In Movie

BURBANK, Calif. — Ed Wynn has arrived in Hollywood from New York to begin preparation for his starring role as Natalie Wood's uncle in Warner Bros. "Marjorie Morningstar." Wynn said that the part is his most important screen effort in many years, particularly since he switched from comedy to dramatic roles.

Wynn will return to New York with the company next week, when "Marjorie Morningstar" gets underway on location at Schron Lake in the Adirondacks. Gene Kelly co-stars with Miss Wood in the Milton Sperling production of the Herman Wouk novel. Irving Rapper directs.

1864 Fort Being Used In Hollywood Story

BURBANK, Calif. — Fort Kanab, established in 1864 and rebuilt last year as a tourist attraction, opened its huge doors to a Hollywood film company for the first time this week when Warner Bros. "Fifteen Bullets From Fort Dobbs" company moved in to begin seven days of location shooting.

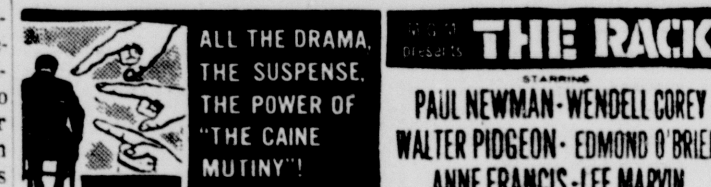

Clint Walker, Virginia Mayo, Brian Keith and Richard Eyer star in the outdoor action drama, and Ray Walston is Billis. Ray, which Gordon Douglas is directing a hit in "Damn Yankees," played a hit on the road with Janet

In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Bertha A. Kreitzburg, who departed this life, 3 years ago, August 31, 1954.

In our hearts there is a longing for the one who loved so well. How we miss you, mother, darling. Only God alone could tell. Our home is so lonely without you. We miss you each hour of the day. And we always will, dear Mother. Till God calls us away.

Sadly missed by HER FAMILY

Seven Hurt In Accident Early Today

One Driver Wanted For Larceny; Six In Miners Hospital

The driver of a car said to be responsible for a three-car accident early this morning above Frostburg is being held in the county jail on charges resulting from the collision, and also faces extradition to Delaware where he is wanted for larceny. Seven persons were injured in the accident.

Tfc. Donald R. Wade and Trooper D. A. Tucker, who investigated the mishap, said Charles Messer, alias Roy Brown, 35, of Welch, W. Va., was traveling west on U. S. Route 40 when he failed to keep to the right of the highway, sideswiped an east-bound car driven by Peggy Ann Wolfe, 22, of Wheeling, W. Va., causing her to swerve into the path of another westbound vehicle operated by John James Lawhorn, 45, of Alexandria, Va.

The state police said a "pick up" order on Messer-Brown had been sent to the LaVale barracks, and when he produced his operator's license the name struck a familiar note. Investigation disclosed he is wanted in Delaware where he faces larceny charges. Authorities of that state have been notified and a detainer is expected so that he may be returned to Delaware after authorities here have completed his case.

State Police said the accident occurred shortly after midnight about five miles west of Frostburg near Long Stretch.

Six of the injured are patients in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, while the other person hurt has since been discharged. Passengers in the Lawhorn vehicle who were injured are:

Mrs. Ruth Lawhorn, 43, wife of the driver, who sustained a fractured left leg; their seven-year-old son, James E. Lawhorn, fractured right elbow; Helen Fields, 35, of Washington, lacerations of the lips and right leg and a sprained back, and Wilberta Wheeler, 21, of Alexandria, who was discharged after treatment of cuts and bruises of the face and head. Lawhorn suffered a possible fracture of the right leg and X-rays were to be taken today.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Lawhorn is seven months pregnant and suffered severe shock. Her condition is termed "poor."

Miss Wolfe suffered cuts of the lips and face, and a passenger in her vehicle, Mary Louise Davis, 27, also of Wheeling, has lacerations of the scalp.

Three Injured Near Romney

West Virginia State Police at Romney reported a one-car accident on Route 28, one mile north of Romney, at 8:30 a. m. today, in which three persons were injured.

According to Trooper Charles E. Dorsey, who is investigating, a car driven by Silvia James Crow, 60, of Point Marion, Pa., traveling south, skidded while making a sharp curve near the Fruit Cold Storage plant, veered across the road and upset in a ditch.

His wife, Anna Crow complained of thigh and leg injuries and William Flicklein, 84, of Point Marion, a passenger, received neck injuries.

Catherine Flicklein, another passenger, was not injured. Dorsey stated that the road was wet following a light rain.

Two Crashes On Turnpike

Pennsylvania State Police, at Everett state that two accidents have occurred on the Pennsylvania Turnpike since the beginning of the Labor Day weekend holiday flow.

Yesterday, an eastbound car operated by Garland R. Kilbourne, of Marion, Ohio, struck the rear of an eastbound tractor-trailer operated by Daniel Madry, of Ossining, N. Y., doing an estimated $4,000 damage and resulting in undetermined injuries to Kilbourne and his wife who were admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital. The accident occurred one mile east of Bedford.

This morning, eight miles east of the Bedford interchange on the turnpike, an eastbound car operated by Casimir Klusas, Zella Park, Ill., in dodging another vehicle involved in an accident, swerved and struck another eastbound car operated by James Wesley Stephens, of Quintman, Ga. Full reports of the accidents had not yet been filed and it was not known if any injuries resulted from the second mishap.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford and Everett noted a marked increase in traffic and West Virginia State Police at Romney said that traffic on U. S. Route 50 was steadily increasing, with no mishaps reported.

Danville Girl Wins

Miss Nancy Vandevort of Danville yesterday won third prize in the cherry pie contest at the State Fair at Timonium.

FORT HILL CLASS REUNION—The Class of 1945 of Fort Hill High School held a reunion last Saturday at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. A dinner and dance featured the program. Among those attending, left to right, were Mrs. Norma Davis Hovatter,

Coal Buying By Bid Plan Is Rejected

The proposal of County Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson to have the county board advertise for coal for county buildings died quickly at yesterday's meeting.

Wilkinson asserted that the total annual expenditure for coal for county buildings amounts to about $7,500. He suggested that bids be obtained before the coal bins are filled for the winter.

Commissioner James Orr said the coal the county is purchasing is providing good service and he sees no need for changing the system. He said the county never buys as much as $1,000 worth of coal at a time anyway.

According to law, the board must advertise for bids for any purchase over $1,500. When the other two commissioners approved the form for advertising for bids for entrance doors, frames and transoms at the County Infirmary, Commissioner Wilkinson voted in the negative. He argued that it was an unnecessary expenditure of taxpayers' money.

Mr. Wilkinson did get the support of Commissioners William H. Lemmert and Orr when he moved for the erection of 25-mile-an-hour speed signs on the Mexico Farms Road. His motion followed a discussion with County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

Thirteen bids were received up to yesterday's meeting for three used cars which the county plans to sell. The bids will not be opened until next Tuesday because the advertisement for bids simply requested them on or before August 30. As a result Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, ruled that any bids postmarked on or before midnight August 30 will be accepted.

B&O Returns 225 To Jobs

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has called back to work 225 men at the Keyser car repair shops.

The men, representing five work units, will report to work Tuesday morning. Some of the workers being called back to work have been furloughed since February 1.

As of Tuesday, the work force in the shops at Keyser will total 445.

A B&O spokesman in Cumberland said so far back to work notices have not been received for any shop workers here.

Dr. Karl Kolb Ends Service As Clinician

Dr. Karl W. Kolb retired yesterday to end 22 years of service as the Allegany County Health Department dental clinician.

His retirement will provide a void in the Health Department's program here because state health officials have been unable yet to get a replacement for the 69-year-old dentist.

The chief losers will be the first and second grade pupils in the schools of Allegany County. Last year in September, October and November, Dr. Kolb examined the teeth of some 3,348 first and second grade boys and girls.

In September there were 2,517 examinations, in October 432, and in November, 399. In 22 years, operating on a similar schedule, he must have examined the teeth of more than 73,600 boys and girls.

Youngsters in Cumberland schools were brought to Dr. Kolb's office in the second floor of the Public Safety Building. Dr. Kolb in turn visited the schools outside the city limits for examination of the youngsters' teeth. Sometimes the advice was heeded, but too often it was ignored by children who while still young found it necessary to get false teeth.

If and when the city adds fluoridation to its water supply, Dr. Kolb predicts that tooth decay among the youngsters will decrease at least 60 per cent.

A native of Cumberland, Dr. Kolb received his training at the Denver (Colo.) University School of Dentistry.

A dentist for 34 years, Dr. Kolb practiced in Denver for one year before returning to Cumberland, where he practiced from 1924 to 1935. He became dental clinician for the Health Department September 1, 1935, just 22 years ago tomorrow.

During his retirement, the venerable dentist plans to fish a lot and "putter around the house."

Scattered Rain Noted In Area

Scattered showers, some of them not enough to keep the dust down, were recorded in this section during the night and the Weather Bureau does not expect any more for the Labor Day weekend.

Some parts of the western section of the county received hard showers early this morning. At the Savage River Dam, Homer R. Glass, superintendent, said 21 of an inch was recorded.

But, he added, this morning six miles upstream from the dam at Big Run the earth was dry as powder.

About 7 a. m. today, Cumberland received a "light sprinkle" which quickly dried off.

The forecast for Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties calls for some cloudiness tonight, with the low in the 60s. Tomorrow is to be fair and not quite as warm. Monday is to be fair and warmer.

Keyser Man Hurt In Fall From Truck

A Keyser man is a patient in Potomac Valley Hospital there with injuries suffered Thursday afternoon when he fell from a moving pickup truck.

Attaches said the man, Frank Myers of Locust Street in the Potomac Heights section, suffered a concussion, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions of the nose, head and face. He is reported in "fair" condition.

Myers was injured when he fell from the back of the vehicle after grabbing for a cardboard box that started blowing out of the truck.

To Speak At Masses Rev. Terence Moffett, OFM, Cap., of Pittsburgh, will speak at all masses tomorrow at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. His subject will be "Purpose Of The Senior and Junior Holy Name Societies."

Preliminary Work On New Span Starts

West Abutment Excavation Work Starts This Week

The Hazelwood Construction Company this week began excavation for the west abutment of the new Baltimore Street Bridge.

A company spokesman said the old bridge is being broken up through the use of a crane and a five-ton "pill" being dropped on the reinforced concrete.

At first a lighter weight was used, but did not break up as expected due to the heavy railroad rails used to reinforce the concrete.

The old bridge built in 1916, was put together strong enough, observers pointed out, but the footers were about five or six feet above the rock bed of the creek.

Had there been no backing up of the Potomac River in the 1936 flood, and Wills Creek allowed to wash with great pressure, the bridge footers would have been undermined, it is believed.

The construction company is driving pilings for the temporary span to carry the Western Maryland Railway across the creek during the construction of the new railroad bridge.

This work will be completed in a week and the foundation will be ready when steel for the temporary railroad span is delivered in October.

The Hazelwood firm is making progress in the creek bed in the area between the Market Street bridge to the confluence of the Potomac River. The toe wall on the west bank is completed, a company spokesman said.

That will leave the slopes and the channel walls to be done, he added.

Short Course For Firemen Set Tuesday

The 24th annual short course for firemen in Maryland will be held at the University of Maryland, Tuesday through Friday.

The course has been planned by the Fire Service Extension staff of the University with assistance from the training committee of the Maryland State Firemen's Association.

Cromwell C. Zembower, LaVale, who is a member of the firemen's training committee, will participate in the program.

Zembower, former president of the state firemen's association, will speak Tuesday afternoon on the officer training program, dealing with administration. He will discuss "Conducting Meetings."

At the Wednesday session on administration he will speak on "Human Relations." On Thursday, he will speak on human relations in regard to officer training for fire fighting.

The facilities of the Fire Service Extension Department have been made available, along with lesson material and instructors. The program is coordinated with the state firemen's association training system.

Zambower serves as an instructor for Fire Service Extension Department night courses held in Allegany and Garrett counties in evening night classes throughout the year.

Busy Weekend Set For Legion

Today at 6:30 p. m. the post will honor one of its members, John W. Sloan, the new state Legion commander, with a dinner and dance.

Tomorrow from noon to 7 p. m. the post will hold its annual picnic at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds. Members may obtain tickets at the home this evening or at the gate tomorrow.

Berry's Death Creates Fifth Assembly Vacancy

The death of Del. Samuel M. Berry, Westernport member of the Allegany County Republican Central Committee, has caused the fifth vacancy among the county's seven-member delegation elected to the General Assembly in 1954.

The vacancies started when in May 1955 Robert B. Kimble resigned as state senator to become chairman of the Maryland Employment Security Board.

A coincidence is that five of the original group of six delegates and one state senator elected in 1954, are still active legislators.

When Kimble resigned, the state central committee recommended and Gov. McKeldin appointed Del. See to be the new state senator.

The committee then recommended and the governor named George F. S. Jeffrey of Lonaconing to fill the vacancy created by the elevation of See.

On July 8, after the resignation of Del. Estel C. Kelley to accept a position on the Alle-

SAMUEL M. BERRY

Berry Rites Planned At Westernport

On Monday, two weeks to the day he was sworn in as a member of the House of Delegates, services will be held for Samuel Martin Berry, 43, Westernport, who died yesterday afternoon in Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient nine days.

On Monday, August 19, Berry received his oath of office from House Speaker John C. Luber. He succeeded Estel C. Kelley who resigned to take a position on the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Monday at 1:30 p. m. last rites for the delegate will be held in the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport, with interment in Philo Cemetery there.

Mr. Berry, who lived at 125 Church Street in Westernport, had been ill for some time from diabetes but his death was attributed to a heart attack.

A native of Barton, Mr. Berry was born September 19, 1913, a son of the late Harry and Ella (Brooks) Berry. He was graduated from Barton High School and attended Catherman's Business School in Cumberland.

J. Irvin Martin, worshipful master, and Edward W. Michael, secretary, of the Allegany Lodge 157, AF & AM, Barton, to which Mr. Berry belonged, said members will meet at the Odd Fellows Hall in Barton at 1 p. m. Monday to attend the funeral in a body.

Mr. Berry was president of the Westernport-Luke Lions Club, had been a member of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee since its election in June 1954, belonged to IOOF Lodge No. 92, Barton; Star Council No. 37, JOUAM, Barton; Local 244, Typographical Union of Cumberland, and Trinity Methodist Church of Piedmont, which he served as a member of the Official Board.

From 1936 until 1946, Mr. Berry served as secretary to the late Mrs. Lulu Boucher of Barton, a member of the House of Delegates. He had lived in Westernport a number of years and was an insurance agent and printer.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Fay B. Boal; one son, S. Martin Berry Jr., 11; two half sisters, Mrs. Claude Snyder and Mrs. David Gowans, both of Barton; two half brothers, Charles Ross of Glenn Dale in Prince George's County, and David W. Ross of Barton.

Myers Post Sets Picnic And Dance

Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion, will sponsor a picnic and dance Labor Day starting at noon at Malampy's Farm, Wilkesboro Road.

Music for the dance will be by Lester Frazier's five-piece band, according to John Trimble, post commander.

The drum and huckle corps of the post will also play. Refreshments will be on sale.

Man Gets Permit To Build House

John E. Beegle has obtained a permit from the city engineer's office to build a house estimated to cost $8,000 at 942 Bedford Street.

The brick veneer dwelling will be 34 feet eight inches by 27 feet four inches.

Procedure Outlined

In explaining the procedure that will be followed by the school board, Webster said the first project to be taken care of is the construction of a gymnasium and classrooms at Allegany High School. Then come classrooms, a health room and office at East Side School, after which the Valley High project will have precedence.

Webster also pointed out that he was unable to set a target date as to when the Valley High work will begin, explaining that there were too many intangibles to permit him to make such a statement.

The construction of a sidewalk from the Lonaconing limits to the school was also extensively discussed, during which it was brought out that the school board had no legal right to construct (Continued on Page 2)

Rally Time Changed

Beginning Saturday, September 7, the Tri-State Youth For Christ will begin its rallies at 7:45 p. m. The change of time was decided at a recent board of directors meeting.

The Youth for Christ rallies are conducted every Saturday night in the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

Valley High Work Aired At Meeting

County Delegation, School Board Hear Complaints Listed

A delegation of some 50 persons, representing at least 15 organizations of the Lonaconing-Midland-Barton area, met last night at the Court House, with the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly and the full membership of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Up for discussion was a proposal for improvements that the three-town group felt was long overdue at Valley High School in Lonaconing. The specific items were outlined to delegates and Board of Education by Melvin Sloan, who had been selected as spokesman for the occasion.

Sloan said it was the consensus by residents of the Lonaconing area that the athletic field at Valley High be enlarged, pointing out that the present field is only large enough to take care of soccer games.

The town, Sloan continued, has a tradition of producing good baseball players and pointed out that it is also the home town of one of the sport's greats, "Lefty" Grove. Valley High was built on Lonaconing's baseball field and since then no area has been available for the sport with the result that baseball and softball have had to be dropped by organizations that had been sponsoring such sports for youngsters.

Drainage Cited

The second request for action was on a drainage condition that Sloan said threatened the lives and health of the students at Valley High. He outlined the cause of the health hazard and also showed pictures of the conditions on part of the school ground which he said was the direct result of drainage from an open ditch.

The three-town group spokesman also said there was a great need for a sidewalk and lighting along a portion of State Route 36 from the corporate limits of Lonaconing to Valley High School. Sloan explained that a safety hazard will exist as long as students have to walk the highway, and said it was a moral responsibility of the school board to see that the students had a safe and well-lighted pathway to school.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, acted as the principal spokesman for the school board. He explained that he and the other members of the board were fully aware of the conditions presented by the three-town delegation, and that the board had not been oblivious of the need for the requested improvements.

Health Hazard Primary

Webster said he considered the health hazard created by the drainage onto the school property as of primary importance, and outlined a number of plans that he had instigated in an effort to remedy the situation.

Several of the plans, Webster explained, had been rejected by the owner of some property involved, while others had to be dropped when property owners would not grant the school board rights of way needed to lay a sewer line.

The school superintendent said he had also requested James S. Getty, attorney for Lonaconing, to help obtain some of the land needed, and Getty told the assemblage that unreasonable demands caused the plan to be dropped.

In one case, Getty continued, the owner of property that had a total assessment of $600 asked $10,000 for his land, and another property owner asked $9,000 for land assessed at $400.

Although no expansion of the Valley athletic field has been possible since the school was opened in 1953, Webster said the project was not forgotten. He explained that the project had been discussed with the county delegation during the last session of the Legislature, and State Senator Charles M. See, who presided at the informal meeting, verified this, as did the other five members present.

Procedure Outlined In explaining the procedure that will be followed by the school board, Webster said the first project to be taken care of is the construction of a gymnasium and classrooms at Allegany High School. Then come classrooms, a health room and office at East Side School, after which the Valley High project will have precedence.
